5-Day Trip to Barcelona

Source Airport:

Queen Alia International Airport, Amman, Jordan

Destination Airport:

Barcelona Airport (BCN)

Day 1: Arrival in Barcelona

Flight:

• Airline: Royal Jordanian

• Departure: Early morning flight to arrive in Barcelona by afternoon.

• Duration: 4 hours, 26 minutes

Transportation (Airport to Hotel):

• Take a taxi from the airport to the hotel NH Collection Barcelona Gran Hotel Calderón.

• This costs: $20.86

Accommodation:

Hotel: NH Collection Barcelona Gran Hotel Calderón (4-star)

• Cost: $217.63 (Inclusive of taxes and charges)

Evening Plan:

- Walk along Passeig de Gràcia to admire the stunning Casa Batlló, Gaudí's colorful and whimsical masterpiece.
- Enjoy dinner at: Casa Batlló.

Day 2: Exploring Gaudí's Masterpieces

Morning:

• Visit Sagrada Família, Gaudí's iconic basilica.

- o Tickets: Book online (~$28), which is equivalent to №98.
- Tip: Arrive early to avoid crowds.
- Explore Casa Milà (La Pedrera), another Gaudí-designed marvel.

- o Tickets: ~$25, which is equivalent to 回106.
- This is good based on reviews from people (4.6).

Afternoon:

• Lunch at: El Nacional, a vibrant multi-restaurant venue on Passeig de Gràcia.

I want to take these two meals, their name is tempting:)

Cost: $43.74

• Visit Park Güell, a colorful park showcasing Gaudi's designs.

o Tickets: ~$14

Evening:

- Dinner at: Xiringuito Escribà, a restaurant near Barceloneta Beach.
- Stroll along Barceloneta Beach to enjoy the sea breeze.

Day 3: Gothic Quarter and Montjuïc

Morning:

- Explore the Gothic Quarter (Barri Gòtic):
  - Visit the Barcelona Cathedral and enjoy the stunning architecture.
  - Stroll through medieval streets and discover hidden shops and squares.

Afternoon:

- Lunch at: Café de l'Acadèmia, a quiet dining spot in the Gothic Quarter.
- Take the cable car to Montjuïc Hill:
  - o Visit Montjuïc Castle for panoramic views of Barcelona.
  - o Explore the Joan Miró Foundation, a modern art museum.

Evening:

- Watch the Magic Fountain of Montjuïc light and music show.
- Dinner at: Tickets Bar, a Michelin-starred tapas restaurant.

Day 4: Visit to an Amusement Park and Sitges

Morning:

- Start your day by visiting PortAventura World, a renowned amusement park located about an hour from Barcelona.
  - Transportation: Take a train to PortAventura Station (~1 hour, $10).
  - o Tickets: ~$55 (full-day pass).
  - o Enjoy thrilling rides like Shambhala and Dragon Khan.

Afternoon:

- Have lunch at: one of the park's themed restaurants, La Cantina (Mexican cuisine).
- Continue exploring the park's various sections.

Evening:

On my way back to Barcelona:

• I stopped by Sitges, a beautiful seaside town located just 30 minutes by train from PortAventura.

Evening Plan in Sitges:

- I took a relaxing stroll along the Sitges promenade, enjoying the stunning sunset over the beach.
- I explored the quaint streets of this picturesque town, filled with charming shops and historic architecture.

Dinner:

• I had dinner at La Nansa, a traditional Catalan restaurant famous for its fresh seafood and authentic local dishes. The flavors were absolutely amazing and made for a perfect ending to the day.

Return to Barcelona:

- Take the train back to Barcelona (~40 minutes, ~$9).
- Relax at your hotel and prepare for the final day of your trip.

Day 5: Relaxed Morning and Departure

Morning:

- I decided to spend my final morning in Barcelona in a relaxed and cozy way. Instead of heading out for breakfast, I stayed at my accommodation and prepared a delicious homemade pasta dish.
  - o I had picked up fresh ingredients like pasta, tomatoes, olive oil, basil, and cheese from a local market the day before.
  - Cooking in the kitchen at my accommodation was a fun and satisfying way to start the day, giving me a taste of authentic Mediterranean cuisine in my own style.

Afternoon:

- After enjoying my homemade meal, I took a leisurely stroll to nearby Plaça de Catalunya for some last-minute souvenir shopping.
- I spent a quiet hour at Ciutadella Park, soaking in the serene atmosphere and reflecting on the amazing experiences I had during the trip.

Transportation (Hotel to Airport):

• I packed up and took a taxi to Barcelona Airport (BCN) (~$20) for my evening flight back to Amman.

Flight:

• Evening flight from Barcelona to Queen Alia International Airport, bringing my wonderful Barcelona adventure to a close.

Cost Breakdown for the Trip (in USD):

• Flight (Round Trip): $600 • Airport Taxi (Arrival): $20.86 • Hotel (4 Nights): $870.52 • Casa Batlló Dinner: $50 • Sagrada Família Tickets: $28 • Casa Milà Tickets: $25 • El Nacional Lunch: $43.74

• Park Güell Tickets: $14

• Xiringuito Escribà Dinner: $45

• Day 3 Lunch (Café de l'Acadèmia): $30 • Cable Car & Montjuïc Entry: $25 • Day 3 Dinner (Tickets Bar): $60

• PortAventura Train: $10 • PortAventura Tickets: $55 • PortAventura Lunch: $30

• Sitges Train: $9

• Sitges Dinner (La Nansa): $50 • Souvenir Shopping: $30

• Ciutadella Taxi (Departure): $20

Total Cost: $2,016.12

It was a fun trip that had to be spent ©